Dr. Grant Wiggins Seminar

~A Note About the Seminar Series and Presenter~

Presenter:

Dr. Grant Wiggins

Grant Wiggins is the President of Authentic Education in Hopewell, New Jersey. He earned his Ed.D. from Harvard University and his B.A. from St. John's College in Annapolis. Grant and his AE colleagues consult with schools, districts, state and national education departments on a variety of reform matters. He and his colleagues also organize conferences and workshops, and develop print and web resources on key school reform issues.

Grant is perhaps best known for being the co-author, with Jay McTighe, of Understanding By Design, the award-winning and highly successful program and set of materials on curriculum design used all over the world; and of Schooling by Design. He is also a co-author for Pearson Publishing on more than a dozen textbook programs in which UbD is infused. His work has been supported by the Pew Charitable Trusts, the Geraldine R. Dodge Foundation, and the National Science Foundation.

Over the past twenty five years, Grant has worked on some of the most influential reform initiatives in the world, including Ted Sizer's Coalition of Essential Schools, the International Baccalaureate Program, the Advanced Placement Program; state reform initiatives in New Jersey, New York, and Delaware; and national reforms in China, the Philippines, and Thailand.

Grant is widely known for his work in assessment reform. He is the author of Educative Assessment and Assessing Student Performance, both published by Jossey-Bass. He was a lead consultant on many state assessment reform initiatives, such as the portfolio project in Vermont and performance assessment consortia in New Jersey and North Carolina.

“Getting assessment right” is essential to our efforts to get learning right, whether our role is that of student, educator, parent, policy-maker, or member of the community at large. The development of true understanding is generally the result of excellent formative assessment. The design, interpretation, and implementation of appropriate, high quality assessments is thus a critical challenge for us as educators. No one has had a more profound positive impact on the way we view and use assessment in education than Dr. Grant Wiggins. In this workshop, Dr. Wiggins will help participants to understand the function of assessment in the educational process, to make sense of grading, state assessments and other difficult issues, and to move beyond merely using UbD templates to genuinely implementing education for understanding.
