Dear Parents/Guardians,

As the newly appointed Director of Special Services, I would like to take the opportunity to introduce myself officially to you. My name is Amy Gallagher and I am eager to start contributing to the wonderful programs and services that we offer throughout the Roxbury Public School community. I come to Roxbury as a 15-year veteran working in the realm of special education. I have worked with students in grades preschool through age 21 across the full continuum of services offered within the public-school setting. I most recently served as the Director of Special Services in Franklin Lakes, a preschool through grade 8 school district in Bergen County. Prior to that, I was the Supervisor of Special Services at the middle and high school levels in Millburn, NJ and taught within the Bridgewater-Raritan Public Schools.

My greatest passion in life, aside from my three wonderful children, is working with and advocating for students who have unique needs. I am acutely aware of the role the education system plays in preparing a student for their post-secondary life. I care deeply about providing services to students to ensure that they are able to contribute to society and lead fulfilling, meaningful lives throughout and beyond their experiences in the public-school system.

I look forward to working together with you in order to support our children throughout their journey within our schools and beyond.

Yours sincerely,
